REVOLUTION LOOMS IN BRITISH STRIKE

Both Sides in Mine Dispute Grimly Determined on Victory—Dissatisfaction Spreads.

BY A. E. JOHNSON, United News Service Correspondent.

London, May 8.—Apprehensive of a political revolution, if the miners should win the objects for which they are now enduring hunger and misery in their strike, the British government is more than ever determined on complete victory in this great test between the coalition and the labor element which has sometimes been called radical, socialist and even bolshevistic. As starvation approaches in the mine fields it becomes more apparent that if the miners are not defeated a revolution will be the alternative.

Already there are signs of disaffection among the reserve troops called to the colors in the emergency. Reservists in camp at Aldershot broke out in a riot Saturday night, smashing the windows of shops and saloons and looting the stocks.

Naval sailors stationed in coal wharves have been evincing an unwelcome unwillingness to go on strike, and the government is endeavoring to keep them in the line. The disaffected units of reserve soldiers have been broken up and dispersed among the battalions throughout the country so as to decentralize, if possible, the discontent, which, if allowed to ferment, might result in a serious explosion.

The owners of the mining properties, though the strike is a mighty cost to them, are willing to go on paying the price for victory. One hundred and fifty thousand miners remain under arms to put down disorders which are increasing in frequency and vehemence as the struggle drags on. Lloyd-George's government regards all this expenditure as well worth while because the administration fears that the labor party would gain absolute political supremacy if this strike were won by the strikers.

Miners Dogged.

The doggedness of the miners is arousing the admiration of the general public. Their morale, with almost as sound as on the day they were bought and even now, when they are suffering but no longer in the line.

Although the triple alliance has returned to the support of the miners, the strike is a mighty cost to them, are willing to go on paying the price for victory. One hundred and fifty thousand miners remain under arms to put down disorders which are increasing in frequency and vehemence as the struggle drags on. Lloyd-George's government regards all this expenditure as well worth while because the administration fears that the labor party would gain absolute political supremacy if this strike were won by the strikers.

ELKS WILL HELP SALVATION ARMY

Lumpkin, chairman of the women's division, stated Sunday and those desiring to assist in this work are urged to attend the meeting Monday afternoon. Two short films, titled "In America's Back Yard," will be shown the workers in order that they may gain some knowledge of the work the Salvation Army is doing. The meeting is to begin promptly at 4:30 o'clock instead of 5 as at first announced and everyone who can give one or two days' time to the work of canvassing are urged to attend.

PRELIMINARY MEASURES.

Preliminary measures for guaranteeing the amount needed for the welfare agency's work have been thoroughly planned and carefully executed. Every man and woman in the city, whether they be employer or worker, rich or poor, will be given an opportunity to share in maintaining a type of social service recognized throughout the world as efficient, beneficial and essential.

THE WAR DID NOT MAKE THE SALVATION ARMY.

The war did not make the Salvation Army, said Chairman Lowry Arnold at a recent conference. "The army's spectacular record in the colossal emergency simply proved how wonderfully they are equipped to handle all of the many other kinds of service they have been rendering for years."

The home service fund in Atlanta will be used in maintaining a trained corps of field workers, whose entire time is devoted to translated, practical Christianity through the medium of helping every unfortunate woman or child whose needs require aid.

Dr. Osborn was for five consecutive seasons a lecturer on the chautauqua platform, and ranks among the foremost of the leading psychologists and experts in intelligence tests.

PROPER TRAINING OF NEGRO YOUTHS URGED BY PASTOR

Dr. Ernest Hall delivered a strong address before the men's meeting at the Butler Street branch of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, taking for his subject "Mother." This being Mother's day the message was a very fitting one. He stated that most of the trouble that comes to our city life comes as the result of some youth not being properly trained in the home. No other training can take its place.

He also stated the membership campaign that is now on the city, and urged every boy and man in the city to become a part of this world-wide movement. He stated that from his wide experience in the various in the world at M. C. A. buildings in this country, the one in Atlanta was the best conducted.

The captains and will meet this evening at 8 o'clock for reports. At the close of the reports a championship volleyball game will be played in the gym between the Allen Temple Uthens' Association and the first team of the Y. M. C. A.

Attacks Proposal For U.S. Control Of Labor Unions

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 8.—The recent proposal of Chairman E. H. Gary, of the United States Steel corporation, for governmental regulation of labor unions, is but another attempt to "keep in continual subjection and enslavement the wage-earners," Matthew Woll, president of the International Photo Engravers' union, declared in an official statement sent out to the members of his organization, which was made public here tonight.

Mr. Woll, who is a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and a member of the federation executive council, in session here, warned the workers that Judge Gary has in mind nothing more or less than the extension of existing anti-trust and anti-combination laws, and a relentless enforcement of such laws to prevent the effective functioning of the trade unions, without disturbing capital.

Judge Gary disclaims he is a believer in socialism," continued the labor leader, "yet no one is giving greater momentum to this movement than he and his kind."

"He outlined a plan to his stockholders by which both capital and labor would be supervised by an impartial governmental commission, and challenged labor to accept the proposal."

Without careful analysis, one might be led to believe that Judge Gary's purpose was relinquishing or subordinating his control and that of the board of directors over the steel industry. Banish the thought, Judge Gary is merely using popular and progressive terminology to mask the sinister thought of holding upon the steel industry and to weaken, if not destroy, the ever-increasing force and power of organized workers in their struggle to bring the light of publicity and the torch of justice into the affairs of Judge Gary and his kind."

Workers to Decide.

Declaring that the "steel trust" was unionized Mr. Woll said, "No one appreciates more keenly than Judge Gary that the workers in the steel mills cannot be continuously oppressed and depressed without the spark of protest and revolt setting aflame ultimately the entire steel industrial fabric."

"Judge Gary's plan to regulate organized labor, and to enslave the individual workers has fooled no one—not even himself. His proposal is merely an acknowledgment of the danger he foresees of one man saying for himself, 'I am the state,' as Louis XIV. said in his time, 'I am the state.'"

"The workers will decide for themselves whether or not they are in line with their interests," concluded the statement, "insofar as the public is concerned, practically anybody qualified to interpret public judgment, has placed the stamp of approval upon trade unionism."

More than four thousand people were admitted to witness the program. The competition in the races was very keen as each school was anxious to win the loving cup offered for the highest number of points. The mass athletic drill made up of several hundred small girls was one of the best events and called forth most applause.

Today and Every Day You Use an Exide

Every day of your life you depend on Exide Batteries. When you telephone, the current from an Exide sends your voice over the wire. In many other ways Exide Batteries are constantly serving you.

Ninety-five per cent of the central power and lighting stations of our great cities use Exide for reserve power. Exides run locomotives that gather coal in the mines. They light railway trains, and operate switches. They propel under the sea eighty per cent of our submarines.

Experience in these and other fields made possible the first automobile starting and lighting battery, which was an Exide. The Exide built for your car today contains every lesson learned in thirty-three years of battery making.

You will find that the rugged power of an Exide is a great satisfaction, and its long life and freedom from repairs a true economy.

NEW CROP PEACHES SHIPPED AT DAWSON

Dawson, Ga., May 8.—Two crates of Mayflower constituted the first shipment of new-crop peaches from Dawson on last Wednesday. They were shipped by Dr. J. G. Dean to a New Orleans broker, Dr. Dean receiving $4 each for the two crates.

Several other crates have been shipped since the above shipment, and according to the statement of Dr. Dean, the number of crates of early peaches this season will be few.

Mayflowers and Redbirds, the two early varieties, being grown by done well, and the Redbird, which is considered by Dr. Dean as his best seller, will amount to practically nothing this season. Several thousand trees comprise the orchard in the high school auditorium, and a large percentage of these trees are Redbirds, which have an average of about six or eight peaches to the tree.

Dr. Dean is counting on about six or eight cars this season as his early peaches have failed him and his shipments will be small until late peaches come in. The time will be some two weeks or more off. The next peaches to come in are the Uneddas, Highly Belles and Elbertas in order named, and the crop of these promises to be a good one.

DAWSON PUBLIC SCHOOL WILL CLOSE ON FRIDAY

Dawson, Ga., May 8.—(Special.) Friday, May 27, will bring to a close the spring term of the Dawson public school, and on the night of that date, the senior class play, "A Box of Monkeys," will be presented in the high school auditorium. This is a farcical comedy in two acts, five scenes taking part. Tuesday evening, May 24, the graduating exercises will be held in the same auditorium, on which occasion Dr. Dean, president of Macon, president of Mercer university, will deliver the commencement address and the city board of education, will deliver the diplomas.

The class numbers twenty-three, seventeen young ladies and six young men. The school has had an excellent year.

THOMASVILLE UNITES IN HONORING MOTHERS

Thomasville, Ga., May 8.—(Special.) All churches in Thomasville observed "Mothers' day" Sunday with sermons appropriate to the occasion and programs of music. Committees of young people were stationed at the church doors to pin flowers upon everyone not having them.
The Williams and the young people of the various church societies held at twilight meeting at the Y. M. C. A., which was largely attended.

INTER-TOWN JITNEY LINES ESTABLISHED

Thomasville, Ga., May 8.—(Special.) It is now impossible to get from one town to another in this section, if pressed for time without waiting for the regular train schedules, as jitney lines seem to have become popular and are being established in various directions.
From Thomasville there are now jitneys to Moultrie, Moultrie to Quitman and Tallahassee. They seem to be well patronized and the service is being much extended.

Justice Is First Need of World Says President

Washington, May 8.—There is nothing that the world needs more today than justice, President Harding declared. He made the statement before the Elks lodge here.

"If we have justice there will be no more clashes between men and nations," the president said.
Emphasizing that fidelity was another great world need, the president said:

"With fidelity established in this country I can assure the perpetuity of this republic."
The president's remarks were made in connection with the unveiling of a memorial tablet in honor of Elks who fought in the war.
The president unveiled the tablet after he had been introduced as "Beloved Brother Harding," the president having been a member of the Elks for thirty years.

The ceremony was held on a platform in front of the building with hundreds of people lining the streets. Mrs. Harding and General Le Jeune, commandant of the marine corps, also attended the unveiling.

German Business
Fears Occupation
Of Ruhr District

BY JOHN GRAUDENZ,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, May 8.—Industrial Germany, and this includes not only the financiers, capitalists and executives of great manufacturing concerns, but the average workman himself, is now living in constant fear that the allies will in the effect their threatened penalties.

The occupation will mean, these men on the street believe, a final blow to German industry, which never again will be able to compete in foreign trade with that of France, England and Italy.

As a result of this very general fear, the iron and steel businesses have already suffered a decided slump, and the depression is growing. Leaders in the industry in Berlin continue their deliberations over the allied ultimatum.

Taxes Cripple Trade.
German concerns are contracting no new orders abroad for the time being, iron and steel firms are attempting price cutting, but even this device has failed to overcome the obstacles to trade thrown into the situation by customs actions, the allied penalties already in force, the increases in railroad rates and the high price of fuel.

The machinery, locomotive and railroad businesses are still favorably situated, but these branches are obsessed with the fear of the future increase in industrial costs and the high price of fuel.
Taxation which must be levied whether or not the occupation of the Ruhr takes place.

The man on the street is not ignorant of the situation. He understands perfectly what it means if Germany is occupied. He has watched the process of the "sanctification" of the Rhine, and he realizes that the expansion of this occupation will affect him seriously.
He believes I may say, that the new demands must be accepted, and that otherwise he is going to be out of a job.

There is every indication now that a new cabinet will be created out of the old coalition probably headed by Stresemann. Such a cabinet would sign the allied proposition, and would be forced to come out of office. Then the socialists may seek to return to power. At present they are being held back by the fact that they do not want to take upon themselves the accountability of the occupation of the Rhine.

The market in April improved slightly, in spite of the depression, because of the demand for farm labor and workmen in the building trades.

COUNTY SUES ROAD FOR DEATH OF DOG

Thomasville, Ga., May 8.—(Special.) An interesting case in Mitchell county is that of the county of Mitchell against the Atlantic Coast Line railroad for $100 damages for the killing of a hound dog belonging to the county. It is said that the dog got on the railroad track and was killed by the engine. The county, it is said, claims that the engineer of the train did not blow the whistle, ring the bell or stop the train when he saw the dog coming and, therefore, the road is called upon to pay $100, the sum at which the dog is valued.

NO ARREST YET MADE OF FORMER GOVERNOR

Starke, Fla., May 8.—Sidney J.
Catts, former governor of Florida, indicted here last week by the Bradford county grand jury for the alleged acceptance of $700 while governor for his favorable vote on the granting of a conditional pardon to a convict serving a life sentence for murder, Sheriff Epperson.

Sheriff Epperson stated that he did not know of the former governor's present whereabouts. He had made "inquiries," he said, without avail.

DELIVERED TO THE CHARGED IN WRECK

Memphis, Tenn., May 8.—Two men are held on the secret docket by police here and other agents are promised by Missouri Pacific agents in connection with the wrecking of the passenger train westbound on the Missouri Pacific railway at Almont, Ark., a few miles from Memphis. John Slocum, fireman of Little Rock, was pinned beneath his engine and almost instantly killed.
B. D. Kellogg, engineer; Robert Scott and C. E. Walker, railway mail clerk, suffered minor injuries.

The two men were arrested at Bridge Junction, near the scene of the wreck, by special agents of the Missouri Pacific railway. They claim to be farmers living at Blon-ton, Ark., and deny any connection with the wreck. No charges have been preferred against them.

Following an investigation of the wreck, in which the engine, tender, baggage and mail cars went into the ditch, Missouri Pacific officials here declared that the wrecking of the train was evidently intentional and a corps of special agents are at work on the case tonight. According to the railroad officials, the train at Almont had been opened, to throw the train into the ditch, the switch lamps had been extinguished and newspapers wrapped around the lamps to hide them. The train ran into the siding and jumped the track before the engineer realized the situation. The coaches and sleeping cars remained on the track.

MARINE AVIATOR INJURED IN FALL

Greenville, S. C., May 8.—Corporal L. E. Paine, 25, of the Marine corps flying forces at Parris Island, and nephew of Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, was injured this afternoon when a biplane of the corps, piloted by Lieutenant Charles Capleton turned turtle in making a landing here. His injuries are not regarded as serious.

The aviators missed the Greenville landing field and took ground on a soft meadow land. The wheels of the plane mired and the plane turned over. The corporal was thrown from his seat but the lieutenant, strapped in, was not hurt.

At a recent convention of the democrats in Germany a resolution was passed which favors a woman's section of the foreign office.

IS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Recommendation for Mercy Made by Jury in the Trial of South Carolina Banker.

Orangeburg, S. C., May 8.—A verdict of manslaughter with recommendation for mercy was returned by a jury in the court of general sessions today against a South Carolina banker.

The jury, which was composed of men from all parts of the state, found the defendant, J. M. Matterson, of Kowesville, late November 14, 1916, guilty of manslaughter in the killing of a woman.

Judge I. W. Bowman will pass sentence on Matterson Tuesday morning. It was announced, about the verdict, that the jury had recommended that the defendant be sentenced to the state penitentiary for a term of ten years.

The first trial of Matterson was held in the court of general sessions last night, after hearing arguments for over six hours. The jury stood ten to one for a verdict of murder and two for acquittal. The jury was impaneled at 8:30 o'clock this morning entered the courtroom with a compromise verdict.

Mitterson killed Patterson last November as the latter left the home of Mrs. Stark Jackson, where he had been visiting her. In his statement to the jury, the defendant claimed he shot in self-defense.

Mitterson said to have gone through a marriage ceremony with Mrs.
Jackson, an employee of his bank, but they had been separated when her husband was killed. Mitterson was divorced from his second wife, Patterson's attention to the woman was such that he had aroused Mitterson's enmity, according to the state's evidence, and this resulted in the killing. Former Governor Close Blaise made the closing argument for the defense, while Judge Means made the closing argument for the state.

The trial attracted much attention in the community, owing to the prominence of the parties involved.

You can't fool me on tires.
My car doesn't travel much over fine city pavements.
Most of the mileage is made over rough, country roads.
Place is located miles away from a tire service station and I haven't the time nor the knack of tinkering with a trouble-

Pershing Appeals
For Attendance
At Training Camps

Washington, May 8.—General Pershing applied today to the young men of the country to attend the citizens' training camps to be held this summer and thus aid the war department to build up a "trained citizen reserve organized to meet the emergency of war."
"Our position and influence in world affairs," said General Pershing, "are not measured by our wealth and population, nor by our free and liberal form of government, but by the number of men who are trained to defend our principles of justice and humanity upon which our institutions are founded. The fulfillment of this purpose depends upon our readiness to defend its integrity." The general emphasized the importance of the training camps to the maintenance of a large standing army, but we have persistently pointed out the necessity of training our citizen soldiers in time of peace and have waited until war was declared before making any appeal to the citizenry to organize the principle that every citizen may be called as a soldier, and that the citizenry of the country falls upon all of us.

What We Need.
"From a purely military standpoint our policy should provide first a permanent military establishment large enough to guard against sudden attack; second, a force sufficient to meet our international obligations, particularly on the American continent; third, such forces as may be necessary to meet our internal requirements, and fourth, a militia reserve to be called upon in the event of an emergency to meet the emergency of war."

Many benefits result from the systematic training of civilians through such camps as the war department has conducted. The general continued, including the instruction in the youth of the country of a respect for constituted authority and the principles of self-discipline. Such training also encourages initiative and gives young men confidence in their abilities in addition to developing physical vigor and manliness, and fostering the national spirit of patriotism, the general added.

Offers Opportunity.
"By providing such a course of instruction you are affording the young man an opportunity for development in a large number of other ways," he contended. "It is especially needed among our teen population, a large percentage of whom are illiterate. All these benefits have been bestowed upon young men who, in the past, have been the victims of the war, as a result, have become our most patriotic citizens."

As head of the newly created general headquarters staff, charged with the duty of directing the American forces in the field in time of war, General Pershing will have much to do with the future train-<

PLAN COMPROMISE IN WAGE DISPUTE

Rail Labor Board Hears Move to Settle Wage
and Working Rules Questions.

BY ALEXANDER R. JONES,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Chicago, May 8.—Early announcement by the railroad labor board of its decision on the application of ninety-three railroads for wage reductions will depend upon the success of a move to effect a general compromise of the wage and working rules questions, it was learned Sunday.

The wage issue is now in the hands of the board. Hearings were concluded Saturday. The only obstacle in the road of early settlement is the fact that new working rules between the roads and the employees will not be effected until July. Each railroad and representatives of each classification of labor are now holding conferences on working rules and each will report to the board by July 1. Shortly after this time general working agreements will be announced.

It is now contended by labor, and the contention is upheld by the three labor members of the board, that new wage schedules could not be announced before the rules question is settled, because the men would not know what they could expect in the way of overtime, bonuses, hours of labor, and other important issues. The board has been asked to delay its wage decision until this matter is adjusted.

Other members of the board favor a wage decision by June 1. If this were done without some kind of agreement on rules, the three members of the board representing labor will vote against any wage reduction, it was learned. The hope of influential board members is a compromise which will insure a unanimous vote on both the wage and rules decisions. If the sixteen fundamental points of working rules contained in the decision of the board abrogating national agreements are included in the rules decision in July, as interpreted by the rail union leaders, then a unanimous decision granting the roads a reduction in the wages of common labor of from 10 to 20 per cent can be reached, it was stated by one competent authority.

A unanimous decision is desirable, according to this authority, because a verdict in which labor dissented strongly would not have the effect of clearing the air. When the board voted to increase wages last July, the railroad members voted for it because it was understood that freight rates would be increased correspondingly.

Now the labor members want to know what labor is going to get in case of wage reductions. The answer, according to one labor member, will be working agreements which, while not national in all features, will be so in large measure.

NUXATED IRON Helps make rich red blood and revitalize weak nerves

WEAK NERVES AND THIN BLOOD

RUIN HEALTH OF THOUSANDS WITHOUT THEIR EVER SUSPECTING THE REAL CAUSE OF THEIR TROUBLE—IRON STARVATION.

An enormous number of people who ought to be strong, vigorous and in the prime of life are constantly complaining of weak nerves, headaches, pains across the back, disturbed digestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, a general "run-down" condition, melancholy, bad memory, etc., all as a result of iron starvation of the blood.

There are 30,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron. Without iron your blood also loses its power to change food into living cells and tissue, and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good you do not get the full strength out of it, and, as a consequence, you become greatly weakened both in body and mind.

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron, which restores the true red color to the blood, because it is organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and not metallic iron, which people usually take. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.—(adv.)

JULIUS M'INTYRE WAS DRIVING CAR IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Investigation by the police of the record of Julius McIntyre, of 398 Piedmont avenue, who is now being held without bond, charged with the murder of William Tumin, of 40 Gaskill street, yesterday disclosed the fact that McIntyre figured in an auto accident in the early part of 1920 in which three persons were killed and in which he had a narrow escape. McIntyre and four others were in an automobile driving out the Cascade road during a heavy rain storm. When they reached the creek the bridge had been washed away, but the driver, McIntyre, did not see this in time, no account of the rain, and the machine plunged into the stream. The driver and one companion, a soldier, managed to escape, but the next day the bodies of two women and one man were found in the stream.

McNamara Leaves "Pen" on Tuesday After Ten Years

San Francisco, Cal., May 8.—On a gray day in the winter of 1911 two men, handcuffed together, arrived at San Quentin. One of them was John McNamara, convicted of complicity in the famous Times dynamiting case in Los Angeles, sentenced to spend the next fifteen years of his life behind the walls of the prison. The other was a Los Angeles deputy sheriff who reported the delivery of the prisoner to the warden. Since that day McNamara has never been outside of the walls of the "pen."

step out into the world to begin life anew after spending ten years of his life behind the bars. "Will you be glad to get out?" he was asked by a United News correspondent. "That is what has been keeping me alive—thinking of the day when I would again become a free man—able to go my own way," he replied slowly. "That his release will not be wholly an unmixed blessing is apparent from his conversation. 'One hears so much—and so little—of what is going on outside. That, after an active life a prison term is almost an intellectual death,' he added. 'We hear so much of wars and rumors of wars that it is almost appalling to think of facing the age-old conflict of man and his brother. 'With labor troubles paramount in this country, reparations disputes tearing Europe asunder, strife is the keynote of the world refrain.' Although a considerable amount of tea is grown in Burma, it is not used for beverage purposes, but is picked, prepared and eaten as a condiment."

MANY ATLANTANS HAVE RECEIVED VICTORY MEDALS

At the Victory medal office of the war department, recently established on the fourth floor of city hall, many ex-service men of the world war have made application and received the medal to which they are entitled. Recognition is in the form of a variety of medals, ribbons and clasps, depending on the nature of the service as shown by the certificate of discharge. The discharge must accompany the application, which, however, is not required to be made in person by the service man. Among the most recent of those who have received their Victory medals are John W. Weinschenk, of 232 Euclid avenue; Lieutenant Archibald Gann, 207 Lee street; and Charles L. Jones, 474 Pelham street.

Atlanta Women Interested In Salvation Army Campaign

Every woman in Atlanta who belongs to one of more of the large organizations of women—and what woman does not?—is going to be drawn into the Salvation Army campaign, which starts Tuesday.

A personal letter will reach her not later than Tuesday from the head of her organization, which will notify her of a letter she is to receive from Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, chairman of the women's division of the campaign, and Mrs. Lumpkin's letter will remind her of what the work of the Salvation Army means in community service.

Many Endorse Campaign.

The endorsing letters are being sent out by Mrs. Albert E. Thompson, Sr., president of the city Federation of Women's clubs, which includes about 14,000 women.

John S. Spaulding, president of the Atlanta council of Parent-Teacher associations, representing from eight to ten thousand women, and Mrs. Murray Hubbard, vice chairman of the League of Women Voters, which with a membership of between twelve and fifteen hundred, is the largest single organization of women in the city.

Community Service.

"Personally," said Mrs. Albert Thompson yesterday, "when she was asked about her endorsement, 'I have always been genuinely interested in the work of the Salvation Army, and I have kept informed of the scope of its work and its growth in scientific method.'

"I have had exceptional opportunity through visits in Greenville, S. C., to observe the splendid work that is being done by their Maternity Home and hospital, to which are sent young girls from all of this section who are in need of the army's care and helping hand.

My chairmanship of the division of community service in the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs has quickened this interest, because the program of the federation is largely to co-operate with existing agencies and help extend and intensify their efforts.

Nursery Service.

"Community service of the most necessary type is involved in the Salvation Army program—the rescue in body and mind of the destitute, who, without such help, are more than liable to resort to crime. The Salvation Army thus supplies a preventative to such menace, as well as a remedy.

"The city Federation of Women's clubs has officially backed and endorsed every good movement for civic betterment, every educational and charitable undertaking and all patriotic drives that have been launched in Atlanta since its foundation in 1899, and I am sure the members will respond promptly to the call upon us from Mrs. Lumpkin, chairman of the women's division of the campaign, and Mrs. Lumpkin's letter will remind her of what the work of the Salvation Army means in community service.

Dorothy will be better remembered as Madeilyn Strupp. When she first left home to take up professional work she assumed the name of "Dorothy Dale," later marrying Nat Phillips, a Chicago producer, and then by taking the name of Dorothy Phillips.

FINE AND CLEAR DAY EXPECTED ON MONDAY

Although the offices of the weather bureau were closed all day Sunday and there were no forecasts emanating from the aid of the sunographs and the weatherometers, O. F. von Herrmann, over the phone from his residence, hazarded the opinion that Monday would be just as fair and fine a day as Sunday had been.

Which prediction, coming unburdened with a lot of scientific impediments, is hailed with great joy throughout the municipality and suburbs.

How Stillman, Jr. 'Told' Stillman, Sr. Is Now 'Announced'

New York, May 8.—In the search for high lights in the Stillman divorce suit to add to the sensational details already published, news sleuths have discovered how the "break" between James A. Stillman and his son, "Bud," who is still sticking by his mother, came about.

The affair came about at the fashionable Ritz Carlton, it was "announced" Sunday, shortly after the suit became public property. Young Stillman was with his mother, and was entering the hotel when he saw the banker about to walk out.

James, Jr., stopped the senior Stillman.

"Dad, why don't you drop all this," he said to him asked.

"Mother has the goods on you. Why don't you drop it?" "I have started this and I am going through to the finish," his father replied.

Thereupon young Stillman is reported to have broken away angrily, telling his father "exactly what he thought of him."

"I don't care," he said finally.

"Guy is my brother and he can have all the money I have or any part of it. And I am through with him," pointing to the disappearing figure.

Forty witnesses will be called by Mrs. Stillman, many of them socialists prominent in New York. Several will testify that Mrs. Stillman was at the Hotel Grand Anse, where admitted "peepers" claim to have witnessed the alleged improper actions of Mrs. Stillman and the Indian guide, Fred Beauvais, only one day instead of the "fifteen days" as claimed.

And then Mrs. Stillman plans to call to the stand ten young women to testify to their own friendship for the banker.

Chicago, May 8.—Sodom and Gomorrah were syzygy hamlets peopled by lecher-strutting angels in comparison with the modern American city.

Middle-aged rouses, posing as respectable men of family and business during daylight saving hours, are throwing off restraints and are indulging in salacious "aphrodisia parties."

The theater of today houses spectacles framed to emphasize sex suggestion.

Mothers are losing respect by wearing dresses a la their knees, while their own daughters are becoming little night blooming wild flowers along the hectic bright paths of sin.

With no one to guide him, Willie is becoming a bold bad bandit, Yag, and his nefarious lawlessness by moonshine nectar.

The Rev. Howard Agnew Johnston, on behalf of the Chicago Church Federation, made some of the above allegations here in starting a campaign to lift morals from the gutter. Others were made by women reformers, men reformers, college professors, club women and others in all parts of the country.

"What do you make of it all?" asked a young man, addressing William W. Tyler, western director of the National Anti-Vice League. Tyler was indignant, addressing William W. "Most of these people who are criticizing are what I call spasmodic reformers. They break out periodically, holding up their hands in holy horror and assuming a 'holier than thou' pose, denouncing some isolated misfortune as a national menace, while all the time—and mark you, I have been in this game for many years—they are probably doing something on the quiet that is ten times worse."

Tyler paused for a moment in his dissertation on the present epidemic of jazzmania.

"There is another kind of reformer," he said. "That is the man or woman who gets in some movement for the publicity and graft there may be in it."

He smiled.

"Then there is another kind, too. He is the man who works with a Christian honesty and high purpose to help folks. Not to sensationalize, not to deprive anyone of rights, not to make personal capital of another's misfortune, but just to help folks and to try to do what is right."

"Even then he has to be careful. If he isn't, he will get so used to tending to other people's business he will stick up his nose at everybody, get narrow-minded and forget that he is a common, ordinary human being."

AMERICAN CITIES' MORALS ATTACKED

MARINE WORKERS VOTE ON TERMS TO END STRIKE

Washington, May 8.—Local unions of marine workers voted today in nearly every port on the Atlantic, Pacific and gulf coasts on the question of accepting terms worked out in conferences here between their representatives, the ship owners and Secretary Davis for settlement of the wage controversy. The results are expected to be made known here to Secretary Davis tomorrow.

William S. Brown, president of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, said tonight that no pressure had been brought to bear by the unions' heads on the workers in connection with the vote, and would express no opinion as to the outcome. In a statement, however, he indicated that he favored some concessions by the men, although he agreed entirely with the terms they had been worked out in conferences here. He added, however, that the men were to be paid 15 per cent.

A brief conference is expected tomorrow at the labor department, with different interested parties present. The results of the vote of the men will be discussed at that time.
